Residents Are Up in Arms

Chinese Laundry Fought by Neighbors

Protests have been made to members of Council, the Civic Association and other town bodies, and plans are under way to secure an injunction in an effort to prevent the establishment of such a business.

The location of the proposed industry is the old one-story brick building formerly occupied as Markle's Milk Office. The place was rented to the laundryman by George Markle, owner of the property, through John A. Caldwell.

The new member of Narberth's business fraternity has already begun preparations for moving in, despite the flood of protests from those residing near by.

Many residents, on reading in "Our Town" last week that such a laundry was in contemplation, began investigation at once to see if there was any reason why a business more in keeping with the tone of our local stores could not be secured. Mr. William J. Butler, whose home is directly adjoining the proposed wash-house, called on Mr. Markle, who confirmed the report. Mr. Butler asked both Mr. Markle and Mr. Caldwell to reconsider the matter, but to no avail.

The residents of the section then got together, and a number of them pledged themselves to share the expense necessary in retaining a lawyer to fight the new business. Among those who live close to that section who are deeply interested in preventing the laundry are Paul D. Baughman, Fred Derby, Louis Liggett, William J. Butler, and a number of others.

They have consulted with Samuel K. White, a lawyer living on South Narberth avenue, with a view to obtaining an injunction if necessary, on the grounds that the laundry would be a common nuisance. This seems to be the consensus of opinion among the residents of that section. One of them, in expressing his thoughts on the subject said: "The growth of Narberth's business section, and the increase of property values in the district is directly traceable to the high standard maintained. Thus no man whose property has increased in value because of this growth has any right to cash in on the general prosperity, at the expense of his neighbors."

This latter statement was made, apparently, on the basis of the statement that the leasing of the property is but a preliminary to the sale of the same. It is said that the Oriental has offered $30,000 for the corner property, and that the renting of the little shop is simply to sound out the business possibilities.

Mr. Robert J. Nash, President of the Narberth Civic Association, was approached by the protesting property owners, asking that the matter be brought to the attention of the Narberth Civic Association, which has already performed signal service in keeping up the standard of the Borough. It is probable that the problem will be brought up for consideration at the next Directors' meeting, to be held Wednesday night.

LARGE TRACT SOLD

The real estate office of Robert J. Nash announces the very interesting news that they have sold the Sarah D. Stotesbury's tract of land on the Anthony Farms. This tract is unusually desirable and one that in which a great many people have been interested, but up to this time it has been firmly held as an entirety.

The plot is bounded by four main streets, Haverford and Avon Roads, Iona and Hampden Avenues. It is the intention to divide this acreage into building lots, and to give the first opportunity to purchase to residents of this community.

Mr. Nash states that full announcement of the selling plans will shortly be made through "Our Town," etc.

Desirable building sites are rapidly becoming a very scarce article in this community. Undoubtedly this tract is one of the most desirable to be recently placed on the market. The ground is high, convenient to the station, business section, and will be properly restricted.

Politicians Gather at Narberth

Prominent Republicans at General Wayne Meeting

A meeting of the Republican Association of Lower Merion and Narberth was held on Saturday evening at the General Wayne Hotel, and was attended by a number of our local politicians. The meeting was presided over by Township Commissioner Peter C. Hess, of Bala. School Director Wm. J. Byrnes, Jr., of Ardmore, acted as secretary and was assisted by Harry H. Francis, of Ardmore.

County Leader Charles Johnson, candidate for delegate to the Republican National Convention from this Congressional district; Attorney Benjamin H. Ludlow, who is a candidate for reelection as Assemblyman from this Legislative district; Register of Wills Robert C. Miller, James Reese and ex-State Senator James S. Boyd were among the guests of honor. Letters of regret were read from Congressman Henry W. Watson, who was kept in Washington by official business, and from Ralph Beaver Strassburger, candidate for delegate-at-large to the national convention, who was out of the State.

Plans for the coming primary election were discussed and leaders from the various districts in the township and borough made brief speeches in which they agreed that prospects for party harmony never looked better.

Senator Boyd delivered a very pleasing address on principles of the Republican party and party loyalty. He told of conditions in the county, State and Nation and urged every Republican to keep on his toes until President Coolidge had been returned to the White House for another term to straighten out the mess at Washington.

"Ben" Ludlow gave one of his usual straight from the shoulder talks on party policies and local conditions. He explained his platform for reelection in a plain, frank statement in which he pledged himself to guard the best interests of his constituents at Harrisburg.

A luncheon was served by the genial proprietor of the General Wayne, John Odell, following the meeting, and the fifty or more present enjoyed the round table discussion.

WORK GROWS

Probably the best attended meeting of the League for the season was held on Monday, March 10, in the Y. M. C. A. The interest of the women in this organization and its purposes becomes increasingly evident as time goes on. Calendars containing information politically pertinent to the activities prior and inclusive of the primary and general elections were mailed each member and should be kept for ready reference.

A very full program was given. Mrs. E. C. Batchelor, member of the local school board, gave a detailed and interesting outline of the Narberth School which embodies in its progressive program the modern educational policies of today in all its departments.

The primaries, their origin and the system employed prior to the endorsement of the primaries in this state were fully and lucidly explained by Mrs. H. L. Schwartz, one of the State regional directors. Miss Gertrude Ely, county chairman, and a member of the National Board, addressed the meeting on "Patriotism and Peace," punctuating her remarks with her usual wit and humor, concluding with a serious appeal to the voters to use intelligently their citizenship in the coming elections. The League throughout the country is aiming at a 75% vote—and each member is urged to do her part.

COUNCIL MEETS

The regular meeting of Council was held Monday night at Elm Hall. Walton M. Wentz was in the chair, continuing his duties as Acting President, as W. R. D. Hall has been prevented from attending several recent meetings due to business demands upon his time in the evenings.

The slowness in the collection and payment of back taxes has caused Council to demand that immediate settlement be made by Tax Collector Raymond C. Jones for 1918-1921 taxes still unaccounted for.

The contract was awarded at this meeting for 15,000 gallons of road oil to be used in re-surfacing and maintenance during the coming summer. An adjourned meeting will be held next Tuesday night to take up revisions to the Building Code.

COWBELL NEEDED

If rumor has it true, one of our well and favorably-known citizens would appreciate offers leading to the eventual purchase of a large cowbell. Not for a cow, you understand, but for an automobile.

Briefly, the sad story is this. Last Saturday the above mentioned resident parked his car on Haverford avenue, and proceeded to attend to other pressing business. The business was so pressing, we are told, that he clean forgot where he had left his faithful steed. He wandered about Narberth for a long while, searching for it, and did not learn its whereabouts until eagle-eyed Charles Girvin, of the Narberth police force, had discovered a car some hours over the one-hour limit permitted for Haverford avenue, and had made due record of the license number.

The luckless owner was hailed before Burgess Metzger Monday, and received a rather explicit lecture on Narberth traffic and parking rules. It seemed to be more the fault of the car than the owner, though, for the auto had not shown the proper spirit at all in hiding for a day. Therefore no fine was imposed.

SURPRISE DANCE

This next dance of the Tennis Club, this Surprise Party, next Saturday, the 22nd, has been given more effort and attention by the Entertainment Committee than a mother would a christening, a bride her wedding, or an old maid her cats. They do say it is going to be "the goods." Mr. Darville recently returned from Chicago, says he even told the Leader of the Oriole Orchestra at the Edgewater Beach Hotel that they had better look to their laurels when they tune in on that next dance music of the Tennis Club. That's what Jim thinks of our next band of jazz artists. Something must be said about the "surprises," but the dickens of it is that it can only be mentioned, and then only in a whisper, 'cause it wouldn't be a "surprise" if everyone knew.

As stated previously, friends of the members of the Club are invited, as well as other couples who are strangers in our "All the Year 'Round Town," and the Reception Committee, of which Ted Dold is the Head, will see to it that everyone has a good time. The date is Saturday, the 22nd, the place is Elm Hall, and the music starts at nine. The Committee reserve all rights. Lastly it's a "surprise."

TO HEAR INDIAN

A most novel program has been arranged for the next meeting of the Women's Community Club to be held on Tuesday afternoon at two-thirty.

The speaker of the afternoon will be Indian Chief "Strong Wolf," who will come dressed in full Indian regalia. Chief "Strong Wolf" was the first North American Indian to join the war and is working his own way through the University of Pennsylvania. He will talk about the customs of his people and various other subjects which should be most interesting.

Mrs. H. A. Jacobs will give a report of the Monday Conference and reports from the various chairmen will be called for.

The card party given by the Hospitality Committee on Wednesday afternoon was a huge success, both socially and financially. There were twenty-nine tables of bridge, mah jong and five hundred, and most enthusiastic comments were heard of the prizes, which were both lovely and numerous. Refreshments were served after the cards and "a good time was had by all."

DISCUSS ZONING

The Zoning Commission, appointed by Council last month, met Tuesday night in the office of Mr. Robert J. Nash, one of the members of the commission, to begin work on the job of zoning the Borough.

All five members were present. They are Messrs. A. Perry Redifer, Robert J. Nash, Victor Abel, Wm. D. Smedley, and P. B. Krout. Mr. Redifer, appointed as chairman by Council, offered to relinquish the job in favor of some other member, due to the multiplicity of his duties in Narberth, but he was prevailed upon to remain as head of the Commission.

No definite date for the public hearing has been set. The meeting was taken up in a general discussion of zone limits, property boundaries, and other topics dealing with the formation of the final ordinance.

Presbyterian Bible Residence Damaged by Fire

"Get Together" Supper a Big Success

The second "get-together" dinner of the H. C. Gara Men's Bible Class of the Narberth Presbyterian Church, last Friday evening, brought out over sixty of the men of the congregation, and was an even greater success than the one held last fall. The members of the Class, who are practical business men, are applying some of the methods which have proved valuable in their respective occupations in an effort to increase the size and efficiency of their body, and at the same time to become better acquainted personally and to emphasize the social side of Christian work.

President Clarence Kaerber made some introductory remarks and introduced as the speaker of the evening Magistrate Robert Corson, well known as the energetic president of the Men's Christian Legion, a flourishing organization connected with the Ninth Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia. Combining the humor of the after dinner speaker with the earnestness of a zealous Christian worker, Mr. Corson delivered an address which made a profound impression upon his hearers, and which resulted in the appointment of a committee to examine into the advisability of more efficient organization along the lines which he suggested. The speaker gave in detail the circumstances and procedure which, from a gathering of a score of earnest men, developed the Christian Legion with its hundreds of members, a large number of whom were recruited from the ranks of non-Church-goers.

The dinner, which was held in the well-equipped Church rooms, was served by some volunteers from the Women's Auxiliary with a well planned and attractive menu, and they had carried out a unique and very pretty decorative scheme of green, suggested by the nearness of St. Patrick's Day. Community songs led by Mr. Jesse Harris enlivened the occasion, and those present felt that the social and service dinners, so successfully inaugurated, should be made a regular feature of the activity of the Class. When the committee has reported the men are looking forward to some very definite plans to make the organization more than ever a real live factor in the religious life of the community.

NEXT FRIDAY

Do you have that carefully noted in your calendar of important dates? It is the time set for the Methodist Measuring Social, to be held at the church on March 21st.

Would you know the secret of becoming thinner—or stouter, as you will? The Methodist Young People will show you in a not-too-long sketch, "Dr. Cure All," at the entertainment. From what we hear, this all-important topic is but a small part of the many good things in store to make the evening something to rave about for months after.

BUYS FARM

A. E. Wohler, owner of the Garden Nurseries, on Montgomery avenue, has just purchased a ten-acre farm located in Gladwyne.

This ground, it is planned, will be planted with nursery stock as soon as the weather conditions will permit in the spring.

ELECT OFFICERS

The Women's Auxiliary of the Narberth Presbyterian Church held an election Wednesday to choose officers for the coming year. The results were as follows:

President, Mrs. Abbie W. Nickerson; First Vice-President, Mrs. L. C. Douglass; Second Vice-President, Mrs. Arthur W. Burns; Secretary, Mrs. Walter A. Fox; Treasurer, Mrs. E. H. Cockrill; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. J. S. Patterson.

RECOVERING FROM INJURY

Thomas McAuliffe, of Sabine avenue, who was injured last Thursday night in an inter-church basketball game, was able to be about this week.

An X-ray examination showed a probable concussion of the brain, and, while his condition caused some alarm at first, he is now apparently all right.

Trotter Home Ablaze Yesterday Morning

Fire, discovered shortly before ten o'clock yesterday (Friday) morning, destroyed the roof and the third floor of the residence of L. H. Trotter, 205 Woodside avenue.

The cause of the fire, which occurred as "Our Town" was being made ready for the press, has not yet been determined, although it appears as though a spark from the chimney or a defective flue was responsible.

All the Narberth apparatus responded to the call, and were assisted later by the Ardmore company. It was nearly an hour before the flames were under control.

The third floor of the house was unoccupied, but considerable damage was done by water to the first floor, and to the second, occupied by Mr. Trotter's son, Malcolm Trotter, and family.

Witnesses expressed considerable disapproval at the apparent slowness of our local fire-fighters to respond, and to the seeming lack of leadership at the blaze. Spectators declared that the small turn-out of the crew and the length of time in answering the call and getting water on the fire was in and contrast to the usual high efficiency of the company.

False Alarm

The Narberth Fire Company was called out at 3:30 Thursday afternoon to Merion. Through a misunderstanding, the place was given as South Highland avenue, while the source of the alarm was actually on the North Side, in the territory of the Union Association of Cynwyd.

The source of the call was the Barnes estate, where a pile of rubbish had blazed at the garage, threatening that structure. The blaze had been put out before the arrival of the Narberth company.

BASEBALL BEGINS

Robert J. Edgar, President of the Main Line League, called a meeting of the officers of last year's league to be held in Mr. Nash's office last night.

This is the opening gun of the 1924 season, and a report of the meeting will be published next week. Representatives from Berwyn, Wayne, Ardmore, Gladwyne and Bala-Cynwyd were expected. Gladwyne, who did not belong to the league last year, desires to enter a team for the coming season.

Prospects seem bright for a good baseball year in Narberth this season. It seems a foregone conclusion that Wilmer Crowell, whose leadership made Narberth the champions of both halves last year, will again be Manager.

Members of the Recreation Board have stated that a survey of the needs of the field will be made as soon as the ground will permit, and that additional grading will be hastened so as to have the ground in condition to begin the season.

The local team will greatly miss the help and cheerful spirit of Samuel Wisler, who died last month. No steps have yet been taken, of course, to choose another business manager.

The league meeting this week will be followed by another probably on the 24th of this month. The election of officers is slated for April.

It is not known whether or not Bala-Cynwyd will be able to enter a team this year. George Barr, who was very active last year, has had to drop out because of business duties, and the mantle will probably descend upon Grover C. Thompson and John Winters.

The Chamber of Commerce of the Twin Cities, though, has already chosen two captains and plans to play ball shortly with their own members constituting the teams. From the two teams a club team may be formed to compete with other similar organizations of this district.

We would be glad, however, to learn the name of our subscriber. Next week we hope to be able to report more favorably.

LOWER MERION HIGH

Swarthmore Defeated—To Elect Captain Next Week

Swarthmore High was defeated at Swarthmore by the Lower Merion High basketball last Friday night in a game that was full of thrills and excitement. The final score was 22-21 in favor of the Maroon and White.

The scoring was erratic. One minute the teams were neck and neck, the next one was in a commanding lead and the other quintet was trailing points behind.

The first half went fifteen minutes with the score 2-1 in favor of Swarthmore. Then there came a veritable shower of "turkeys," and the half ended 12-10 in favor of the Forstburg passers.

In the second period Swarthmore overcame the lead of the Lower Merionites, passed ahead and for some ten minutes maintained a four point lead. The score up until the closing minutes of the fray was 21-17, with Swarthmore on the big end. It looked like certain defeat for the Forstburg charges until another burst of scoring put them just one point in the lead. Two minutes later the final whistle sounded.

Savill, the big center from Narberth, was high scorer with four field goals and three fouls to his credit. Gillfillian was next with three double deckers. Hutchinson had two two pointers to his credit and Captain Bevan had one foul.

Tonight at 8 o'clock the quintet will close its season with a game with West Chester High at West Chester. West Chester beat Lower Merion in a previous contest.

Captain Election to Be a Tie

Next week, probably Tuesday, the lettermen of the basketball team will meet to elect a captain for next year. Present indications point to the election resulting in a tie between two men. Eight men will receive their letters and pre-election dope has it that they will be evenly divided in their choice. In event of a tie the election of captain, according to rules governing athletic elections, will be left over until next season.

The men who will receive their letters are Bob Savill, Bill Hutchinson, Gillfillian, and William Foote and Paul Gaul, Captain David Bevan, Morris and Faulk.

The debate between Lower Merion and Cheltenham High, which was scheduled for last Friday afternoon, was postponed when Cheltenham came over to Ardmore and it was found that both teams had prepared the negative side of the question, "Resolved, That the present immigration law should be re-enacted."

A coin was tossed and Lower Merion was given the affirmative side. The debate was held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 in the auditorium. Classes for the afternoon were dismissed in order that the entire student body might listen to the war of words.

A current event program was given in the auditorium at morning assembly, Tuesday by Mabel Blair. Miss Blair spoke about the Denby-Daugherty connection with the oil scandal, the MacDonald-Polnare letters and other leading events of current interest.

Alumni Essay Contest

Topics for this year's annual historical essay contest of the Alumni Association were announced this week.

They Are: 1. "Origin of Our Republic"; 2. "Development of the West"; 3. "Alexander Hamilton"; 4. "The Strangers Within Our Gates"; 5. "The Early Settlers of Pennsylvania."

The contest is open to any of the students of Lower Merion High. Contestants may choose any of the five foregoing subjects. Essays should be about 500 words in length, though a minimum of 350 is permitted.

Contestants will be given two weeks for research work. At the end of that time they must turn in a written outline. Then they will be given two weeks more to get their material in shape. Then one day, to be appointed by Miss Holland, the teacher in charge of the contest, will be set aside for the writing of the essays and the students taking part will be excused from all classes and given the entire session to write their contributions.

There are three prizes, a first of twenty dollars in gold and a second and third of ten and five dollars.

Tuesday afternoon a pick-up track team of twelve men were defeated in a practice meet with the Haverford College Freshmen, 45 points to 30. The Lower Merion team was short of men, necessitating the using of all men in more than one event. This was given as excuse for the comparatively poor showing of the championship track team members.

Some of the men in the relay team ran in the quarter mile after taking part in the mile relay. Other events were likewise doubled up on.

The only notable event of the meet was the heaving of the 12-pound shot by Howard Morris, of Lower Merion, for a distance of 38 feet. This was a record for the Haverford gymnasium.

Preparations are now being made for the boys' annual gymnasium exhibition which this year will be given on Thursday and Friday, March 27 and 28. All the boys who take gym work are supposed to take part in the exhibition.

The performance on Thursday will be for the benefit of the school and the student body. It will be in the afternoon. The other exhibition on Friday will be in the evening and will be open for the public.

JUNIORS MET THURSDAY

The handsome home of Mrs. Harry Jacobs, Elmwood Ave., was the scene of the Juniors' last meeting Thursday evening, March 13th. At that time many matters were brought up for discussion, although there was time for an interesting program and novel refreshments before the gathering dispersed.

The forthcoming production, "The Charm School," which is to be given in Elm Hall, Friday and Saturday nights, May 2nd and 3rd, instead of April 25th, as originally announced, was quite naturally the subject most earnestly discussed. Tryouts for the large casts were held last Tuesday night and the ones fortunate enough to be selected either through grace, beauty or dramatic skill for a part in the big attraction of the year became enthusiastic when the full details of the play were brought to light.

Miss Florence Haaf, President of the Club, also brought cheering news. The Senior members of the Women's Community Club are to entertain the Juniors at a Salamagundi party Thursday evening, March 27th, in the Community Club room. If there is any one thing that appeals to the Juniors, individually and collectively, it's a party, so the Juniors are expected to be on hand at this affair (the details of which are shrouded in deep secrecy) en bloc.

The evening of March 27th being taken up by the Senior party, the Juniors will hold their next regular meeting on the 10th of April, at which time sewing will be done for the benefit of the Main Line Welfare Association.

The Juniors at this time wish to publicly thank Mrs. Jacobs for the loan of her house for this last meeting. Mrs. Jacobs has volunteered its use every season and the club wishes her to know that her hospitality is greatly appreciated.

FIRESIDE

Eleanor Fettipodi, of Merion Avenue, entertained at her home Saturday evening last the following: The Misses Kitty and Marie Ellis, of Philadelphia; Evelyn Faust, Pearl Hill, Winnie Yearsley, of Lanerch, and Marie Mieson, of Narberth; the Messrs. Pete Smith, Jack P. Vaughan, Andre Halphen, Arthur Farran, Frank Farrell, Arthur Duley, Mott Brady and John Wilins, of Villanova College.

The regular monthly meeting of the Evangel Circle of King's Daughters was held at the home of Mrs. Frank Hewitt last Wednesday with 25 members present. The Work Committee reported, finished all work on hand for the Main Line Nurses' Association. The hostesses were Mrs. John L. Miller and Mrs. J. Taylor Darlington.

ABOUT THE GARDEN

Just a bit difficult for one who makes a hobby of perennial flowering plants to recommend a list of desirable annuals but there is a place for annuals and many of them are to be highly recommended.

The annuals for edging have been mentioned in a previous issue as have Snapdragons, Asters, Cosmos and the best of all the annuals, (excepting possibly Sweet Peas) the Annual Larkspur.

Nasturtiums are easy to raise and come in bright colors in both tall and dwarf growing varieties.

Phlox Drummondii Grandiflora is another easy one and comes in white, pink, scarlet and such colors and makes a fine display.

Seabiosas grow about 30 inches tall and are excellent for cutting, try some of the lighter shades arranged with Gypsophila.

Petunias are easily raised from seed if scattered over the soil and lightly covered with a little fine sand, they make excellent bedding plants and are fine for flower boxes. Rosy Morn is a fine pink and there is a good dark blue one to be had. The California Giants are gorgeous fellows and come in wonderful combinations of colors.

Shirley Poppies are about the daintiest and prettiest flowers we have in the garden, but must be planted where they are to bloom and do not last long as cut flowers. For garden effect they are more than worth while.

Speaking of cut flowers reminds us that there are three rules for keeping cut flowers. First, keep them out of the sun. Second, keep them out of a draft. Third, keep them in a cool place. Try an experiment and put some cut flowers in a large container in a cool, dark corner in the basement and see how long they last.

Yes. March came in like a lamb. It will probably go out like a duck.

Here's the answer:
We have no control over the demands for telephone service.

As a public utility we must provide a high-grade communication service for those who have telephones; and we must meet the demands for new service when and where they come.

The people of Pennsylvania are saying to us: "We want telephones"—more and more telephones.

There can be only one reply:

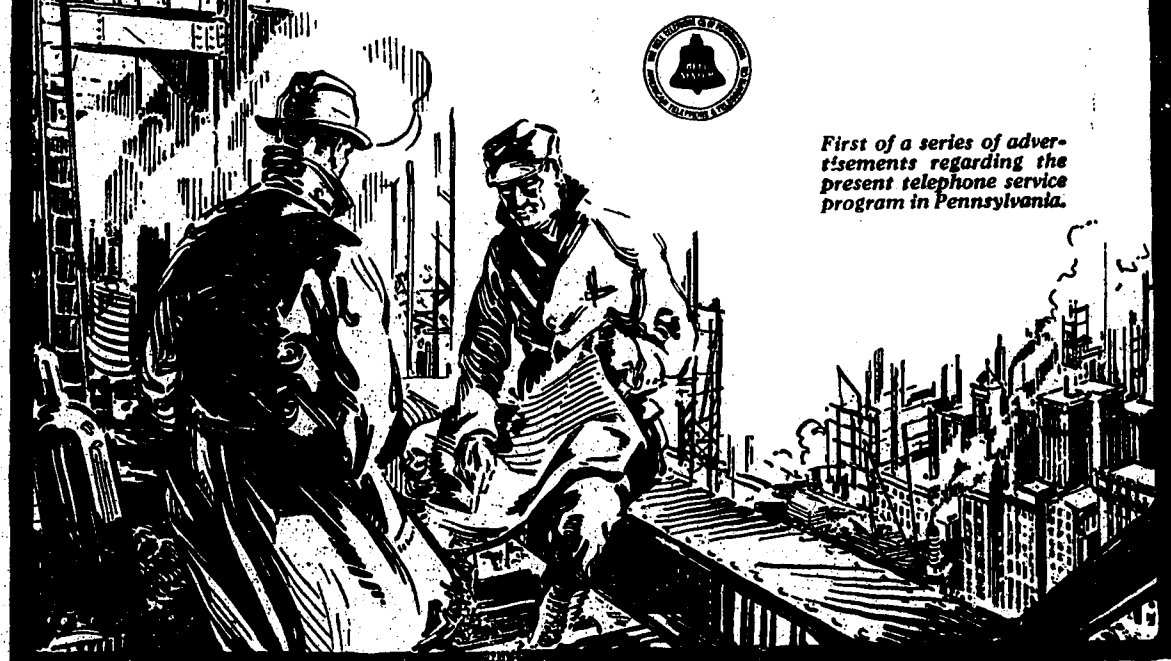

"You shall have them—just as quickly as we can place the equipment."

Regardless of difficulties, we must erect buildings, place the wires, cables and switchboards, and other equipment in the shortest time possible.

We have not sought this tremendous construction problem. But we welcome it; for every added telephone gives your telephone more power. We're in business for just that purpose.

But, only a few more may be fortunate in securing building sites in this beautiful development. Why not consider Wynne Farm to-day. Full information on request.

BOOK REVIEWS

"A Line a Day," by Juliet Wilbur Thompson, gives the reader a striking contrast between two kinds of women—the mother who counts as worth while only money, clothes and social position, and the daughter who desires sincerely to live the simple life. There is constant friction between these two, with more disagreements when the wealthy but queer grandfather asks the girl and another granddaughter to keep a diary, putting in a line a day—this line to be the most important event of the twenty-four hours.

This is supposed to prove to the old man which one of the girls is more fit to inherit his millions and complicate things somewhat, especially where the two young men are concerned. The book is a pleasant afternoon's reading.

"Into the Frozen South," by Scout Marr, will thrill all boys and many grown men. Even the women will read it with interest, although probably no woman would enjoy the picture of icy water washing over the ship and herself, or of sea elephants grunting at her, or of whales swimming around close to the boat. But how about the boys? Wouldn't they like to shovel coal, help the cook prepare steaks cut from the seals that they had caught themselves, and when the Antarctic ice had jammed the boat so that it could not move either way, how about a game of football on an ice floe, with a dog and a penguin playing on the team.

This is the experience that an English boy scout had on his trip with Sir Ernest Shackleton into the Antarctic regions. Several thousand volunteered to go, but only two were selected, the other boy becoming so seasick that he had to be sent home. Scout Marr continued on the whole trip.

"Madame Claire," by Susan Ertz, was published last year, but the Library at that time felt that it needed the money for other things. Now that it has been purchased, the prediction is that it will seldom be found on the shelves, so great will be the demand for it. The book is whimsical and charming. Madame Claire has reached her eightieth birthday and is content to sit in peace upon her hilltop and view quietly the struggles and trials of the younger folks. The characters in the book are mainly her three children and her three grandchildren, to all of whom she tries to give of her many years of experience, helping them to find husbands and trying to smooth over marital disputes. Each character is interesting and different and you finish the book, feeling happy and pleased that your printed acquaintances had such a sprightly old lady in the family, and with the feeling that age has many advantages that youth lacks.

"Told by an Idiot," by Rose Macaulay, the author of "Potterism and Dangerous Ages," is full of satire and wit, and as the "Outlook" says: "It is a novel which no one who enjoys sufficient intelligence to be flattered by contact with a really first rate intelligence should miss." Miss Macaulay has taken the "Garden family" from the late Victorian period up to the present time—the father with his ever-changing creeds; the mother who readily acquiesces in her husband's wavering beliefs, but who nevertheless has time to bring up a large family, and the children who seem to their mother so very modern that she has many fears for them. One cannot help but feel that the worries of many over the present flapper are as useless as those of Mrs. Garden and the women of her day.

The book is written in fiction form, but the background is an historic narrative of events in England during the last fifty years. On the flyleaf of the book are these lines:

"Life's but a walking shadow, a poor player
That struts and frets his hour upon the stage
And then is heard no more; it is a tale
Told by an idiot, full of sound and fury
Signifying nothing." —Macbeth.

"The Story of My Life," by Sir Harry H. Johnston. How about a little trip to Kilimanjaro, or a climb down a ten-thousand-foot mountain, with a large ape to meet you at the end of the trip and after a wild screech and jump which takes the ape out of sight—how about a little conversation with a naked yellow-skinned man who speaks only Bakwiri? This is just a suggestion of some of the things you can read of in the life experiences of this distinguished Englishman. To sum up the important characteristics of the author—He is a painter of note, a traveler, linguist, novelist, explorer, a diplomat, treaty-maker, pro-consul and biographer of Livingstones. A great deal of his life was spent in the British possessions in East Africa, but early in the present century he found time to come to America to visit Roosevelt, then President, and to study the methods in the negro schools, Tuskegee and Hampton, and to make expeditions into the forests of Florida, where he made numerous camera studies of the pine, palm and magnolia trees.

UNIQUE PROGRAM

A most unusual musical program has been announced by All Saints' Church, Wynnewood and Montgomery avenues, for the evening of March 29th.

Mr. David Spratt, organist and choir-master, is preparing a special Russian music service, to be sung unaccompanied. The regular choir of the church has been augmented by other voices from Narberth, Wynnewood and Ardmore, so that this highly difficult program will be rendered by a chorus of over forty voices.

Those participating are from many different churches, and have been selected with a view to having a balanced and experienced choir. The unique character of the program, and the fame of the choir of All Saints' has already made it certain that there will be a large attendance. Everyone interested in fine music is invited.

CONCERNING CLASSIFIED ADS

In order to simplify our book-keeping, and increase the efficiency of handling the growing details of "Our Town," the Treasurer of the Civic Association has opened his office for the receipt of such copy.

Hereafter, classified ads will be accepted only on a pre-payment basis, and may be mailed, with remittance at two cents a word, to P. O. Box 58, or may be left at the office of Mr. Ralph S. Dunne, Treasurer of the Civic Association. His office is that of the Narberth Coal Co., corner of Haverford and Narberth avenues. Kindly do not phone such copy to the Editor.

YOUNG CHURCHMEN PLAY

A tie has resulted so far in the series of games being played by the Methodist and Presbyterian Juniors. Each team has won one game, and the rubber to determine final honors will take place next Thursday evening.

Last Thursday the Methodists scored 84 on their rivals, who evened the count on Tuesday of this week by nosing out the Wesleyans, 11-10. The games are played in the school gym. The line-up of this week's game was:

IT IS COMING

What? Entertainment by Evangel Circle King's Daughters.

When? Friday, April 11th, at 8.15 P. M.

Where? Elm Hall.

What For? Buying materials to make clothing and buy food for the poor and needy.

Why? Because the Evangel Circle must maintain its wonderful reputation. It is important that all help. The price of tickets is 60 cents each. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Fred Derby, Mrs. W. D. Smedley, and Mrs. G. M. Davis.

Prof. Kerzknabe, of Harrisburg, Pa., is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Eberhart Mueller, of Essex Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Grugan, of Hampden Avenue, entertained with a tea on Sunday.

A RELIEF

We are glad that the advertiser who has been performing stunts at the top of page two has blossomed forth and announced his identity. The blank space was had enough, but the cut used last week was variously accused of being a curry comb, a vacuum cleaner, a rake and a Japanese back-scratcher—anything, in fact, but a gas burner.

ECONOMY—Despite unprecedented demand, Portland Cement remains the most economical building material. Comparison of prices of building materials and Atlas Portland Cement. Source: Building material prices from U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Atlas Portland Cement prices from the records of the Company.

DISTRIBUTION—Distribution of Atlas Portland Cement is direct and economical through close co-operation of efficient local dealers. A straight line is the cheapest distance between two points.

ATLAS EFFICIENCY and DISTRIBUTION Insure Building Economy

THE cheapest of all products under- going a complete manufacturing process is made available through simplified economical distribution to the user.

Between the Atlas plants and the user there is but one distributor—the building material dealer—and the directness of this marketing serves to bring Atlas to the buying public cheaper than any other method devised.

The Atlas dealer with his warehouse and yard storage safeguards building operations through an ample supply of materials, and with his trucks and general facilities he can make prompt emergency deliveries. Back of the Atlas dealer is the Atlas reserve storage capacity, greater than the output of the entire nation twenty years ago.

Thus, the one building material having the widest variety of uses, making possible rapid construction and providing fire-safety and permanence for any building, is brought to the user a few bags, or thousands of bags, through a distribution method that sustains building economy.

Ask your dealer for
Atlas Building Helps

Through its dealer, Atlas supplies free books on concrete construction, written by Atlas Engineers recognized nationally as authorities. You are also invited to consult these Engineers on any building problem without charge.

If your dealer can't supply the book you want, write our nearest office.

IN a period of advancing costs, the price of Atlas has remained consistently low. Today it is cheaper than it was thirty years ago. All Atlas plants, operating under one central control, make only one grade of Portland Cement—the best that science and skill can produce—and every member of the operating group takes pride in helping to maintain Atlas as—
